

Freight Car Robbers Arrested.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 22.—The Oakland police have under arrest four employees of the Southern Pacific Company, accused of stealing blankets sent as freight in box cars. In January last blankets valued at $75 were stolen from a car. At the residence of each of the men arrested some stolen blankets were found. The prisoners are F. G. Lockwood, night sealer of cars, a resident of 1311 Center street; John Lucy, a switchman, who lives at 821 Market street; Robert Burnett, also a switchman, a resident of 764 Willow street; and Alfred Rearat, a switchman, living at 1804 William street. The men are all married. Lucy has been married but four months. At the residence of Lockwood were not only three pairs of the stolen blankets, but a quantity of hammers, hatchets, oil cans, shovels, wheelbarrows and other effects—the property of the railroad. A pair of stolen blankets were upon Lucy's bed, and more of the blankets were found in Burnett's house. No stolen blankets were found in Rearat's house, but some were found in the residence of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Ennis. They are accused of grand larceny. All the men were trusted employees of the railroad company.

RAILROAD NEWS.

An Advance in Eastbound Passenger Rates.

The Southern Pacific Company and the Union Pacific Railroad raised their eastbound passenger rates Thursday to correspond with the advance made by the Atlantic & Pacific and Atchison roads. The net rates at 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon were as follows: Omaha and Kansas City, first class 12, second class $7; St. Louis, $19.50 and $14.50; Chicago, $24.50 and $19.50; New York, $43 and $34.25; Boston, $45 and $36.25. The rebates are $18 first class and $13 second class.

The various railway ticket offices were crowded Thursday with purchasers of tickets, people receiving their rebate, and others inquiring for particulars as to the increase in rates. It appeared to be the general belief that a further increase will be made, and no doubt that was one of the main causes which led to the large number of ticket buyers around the railroad offices.

Among those who are supposed to have a fair knowledge of what is going on in railroad circles there is a strong belief that the railroad war is about over, and that rates will be rapidly advanced, but that they will never again reach the figures ruling just before the breaking up of the Trans-Continental Association. The present advance is cited to show that the belief that the war is about ended is correct.

It was stated that persons who had come here over the Atlantic & Pacific with orders for return tickets at cut rates had been refused tickets by the agents on the ground that as there had been a washout on the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe road they would honor no further orders until instructions to that effect had been received from headquarters. This statement was not corroborated, however, and it is not probable that any such action will be taken.

The damage caused by the late storm on the extension of the North Pacific Coast Railroad having been fully repaired, trains will run through to Iogram's, commencing on Saturday next at 1:40 p. m. So says the San Francisco Chronicle.

Trouble Over a Nomination.

The Senate in executive session Wednesday took up the case of Charles R. Pollard, of Indiana, nominated to be Judge of the Supreme Court of Montana, vice General Coburn, suspended. The case was reported adversely from the Judiciary Committee; and Senators Edmunds and Hoar spoke against Pollard. Pollard was a Confederate and Coburn a Union soldier. Many allegations concerning the questionable transactions in which Pollard took part when Assistant District Attorney in Indiana, were discussed. Senator Voorhees began a speech in favor of Pollard, but gave way for an adjournment.

The New York Tribune's Philadelphia special of April 22d says: The association of wool merchants of this city has issued a circular, stating that the "association proposes to use its influence for higher duties on wool and also higher duties on the products of wool, and they earnestly request all wool merchants concerned immediately to ask their representatives in Congress not only to oppose any reduction of duties, but to ask for the restoration of the tariff of 1867 on wool."

General Wheeler, of Alabama, who has himself been suggested as a candidate for the Vice Presidency, says the nomination of a Southerner would defeat the best ticket that can be put in the field, and that the candidate must come from one of the doubtful States—Indiana, Ohio or the Pacific Coast. The new Senator from California, he says, promises to develop into an important man. He is of good address, capable and rich.

It is said that freight rates will be advanced to-morrow on the Union Pacific and Southern Pacific's roads to half of the schedule rates existing before the railroad war began.

A Bad Outlook for Young Beecher.

The sub-committee of the House Committee on Commerce has decided to report adversely the nomination of Collector Beecher. The charge which caused this decision related to the purchase of postal orders. It is said that Beecher, while Captain of the Evangel, was intrusted with $300 by a man at a little village on Puget Sound to get several postal orders, aggregating that amount, at Seattle. Beecher agreed to do so, and when he returned to the village and the man asked him for the postal orders Beecher replied that he had sent them to their destination. The man wrote the parties to whom Beecher said he sent the postal orders, and the reply came back that they had never been received. The man then charged Beecher with deceiving him and appropriating the money. Beecher replied that he gave the money to the postal clerk on the boat with instructions to purchase the postal orders and forward them. When Beecher was appointed Collector of Port Townsend this man threatened to expose him if he did not repay the money. It is said that Beecher then refunded the $300. This is the substance of the charge against Beecher. Vest will report the nomination adversely to the Senate. Great efforts are being made by the Beechers to secure the confirmation of the young man.

Arrival of the New Chinese Minister in Washington.

WASHINGTON, April 22d.—Minister Woon, Minister from China to the United States and his suite, numbering upwards of forty persons, arrived here to-night from California by way of Chicago. The retiring Minister, Cheng Tsao Ju, and the resident members of the Chinese Legation were at the depot in court costume to welcome the newcomers. A large crowd was also present to witness the "povel sight" which was presented on the platform. After a series of salams and other celestial greetings, the entire party took carriages and were driven to the Chinese Embassy in Stewart Castle, at the head of Connecticut avenue. Cheng Tsao Ju and his private Secretary were the first to return from the depot, and by the time the other members of the party reached the residence everything was in readiness to give the new Minister a fitting reception. The attaches were drawn upon lines on both sides of the wide hall, and as Minister Woon entered the door he was greeted with profound salams and escorted to the parlor, where he was formally welcomed to his new abode by his predecessor. An exchange of greeting followed all around, and the outside doors were closed to further view from the outside party.

Presidential Possibilities.

A Columbus dispatch says: A premature discussion of Presidential possibilities for 1898 is going on in many Ohio newspapers. The chief indication is that Blaine remains the Republican idol, and there is a general admission that he cannot but be nominated if he wants to. In a recent conversation, John R. McLean said to a Republican of Cincinnati: "Make up your mind to vote for Blaine in 1888. He is sure to be the candidate for your party. Thurman can never be nominated. You and the other men have great hopes of Foraker, but the Sherman men in Ohio will fall out with him. Some other distinguished Westerner—a jurist like Alphonso Taft—will be given some place. This is my prediction. Mark it down."

THE NEVADA SENATORSHIP.

The San Francisco Post says:

The Senatorial fight in Nevada has shaped itself, and the Republicans are hopeful of recovering the seat that was lost to them by the election of Senator Fair in 1881. It is accepted as a fact that that gentleman will try to succeed himself. The Republican plan of campaign is based upon this assumption. There being no Republican in the field who can measure necks with the Democratic millionaire, the principal candidates have agreed to combine against him as the common enemy, and exert themselves to elect a Republican Legislature, with which each will take his chances. The personal popularity and influence of each is to be used for the benefit of the party first, and for the individual aspirant afterwards. Three Republicans are at present known to be in this pool—William M. Stewart, Thos. Wren and C. C. Powning. C. C. Stevenson, of Gold Hill, who two years ago threatened to give Jones some trouble, is not now much heard of, and R. M. Daggett has also nearly disappeared from view. The latter, however, is said by his friends to be still in the field, and determined to play the part of Coriolanus unless his claims are recognized. Practically, however, the struggle will, from present appearances, be narrowed down to Fair on the one side and Messrs. Stewart, Wren and Powning on the other. Stewart is strongest in Storey and Ormsby counties, Powning can carry the Washoe delegation against anybody, and Wren is the favorite in Eureka, and throughout the State. It is hoped by the Republican managers that these three, by making a combined fight—each restricting his exertions to his own neighborhood—can prevent the election of a Democratic Legislature. In this event, the race would probably lie between Stewart and Wren. Mr. Powning—who has been a State Senator, who ran for Congress in 1882 and was defeated, and who is at present United States Surveyor General of his State—is still a very young man, and scarcely ripe enough for the responsibilities of the Senatorship. Outside of his own county there is a general belief that it will do him no harm to wait for a few years. Mr. Wren is undoubtedly a strong man. He served one term in Congress creditably, and has been always a faithful hard-working Republican. Although by no means brilliant, he has solid abilities and would compare favorably with the average Senator. Mr. Stewart is, however, by long odds the ablest man among the Republican candidates, and the Republican party, not only of Nevada but of the whole coast, would be advantaged by his presence in the Senate. The objection is made to him that he has but recently resumed his residence in Nevada, after living a number of years in this city. Both Wren and Powning might fairly press this point upon the Legislature, but it would be hardly likely to have that weight which it would have in any other State. It is a long time since Nevada has had a genuine Nevadan to represent her in the upper house of Congress. Both the present Senators are San Franciscans, as Sharon was.

The partisans of Senator Fair are not at all frightened by the earnestness and activity of their adversaries. On the contrary, they are serenely confident, and say quietly that the Republicans this year may have the fun of fighting and campaigning all to themselves—that Fair's interest in the contest will not be obtrusively manifested until the day of election, when he will exert himself and give the State another Democratic Legislature and capture his seat for six years longer.

Our Fruit and the Boycott.

New York, April 22d.—There seems to be a well-grounded opinion in trade circles here that the threatened boycotting of California canneries is going to work great hardship to the Pacific coast by inducing the laboring classes to go back to Baltimore canned goods. New York State is now said to be producing a much better quality of canned goods than ever before, and it is thought, in the event of the Pacific coast boycott, the attention of the canneries will be largely directed to the packed fruits of New York as well as Baltimore.

SALE OF ICHI BAN.

Billy Ayres has sold his fleet thoroughbred, Ichi Ban, to J. E. Huggin, the reported price being $4,500—a very good figure, considering that he is a gelding. He was shipped east with the others of the Rancho del Paso string, filling the cure Ben Ali and Ismail. He has thirteen engagements back there, and if he keeps in good condition he will be very apt to "win himself out" before the season is over. Few would have believed, when he was disposed of for about $350 as the runt of Theodore Winters' sale two or three years ago, that he would ever become as valuable a piece of property as he is; but the number who are glad that Mr. Ayres was so successful with him are not few by any means.

NEVADA STATE UNIVERSITY.

What a California Paper has to say of it.

The Pacific Rural Press of the 24th prints a cut of our new University in connection with the following:

We give herewith an engraving of the first building of the Nevada State University, which was opened last week. It is situated on a picturesque site less than a mile from the railway depot at Reno. The plans for the building were drawn by M. A. Curtis, the architect, from suggestions as to requirements given him by Regent Shaw. Messrs. Burke Bros., of Reno, had the contract for the erection of the building, and considering the small amount paid them ($12,700), the University authorities say that the builders have not only given great satisfaction but have demonstrated that Nevada mechanics are equal to the production of work which will challenge comparison with the best anywhere else. They say that in material, character of workmanship and finish the Nevada State University building will stand the most searching criticism. The new building is built of brick, having a stone foundation. Both the basement and mansard roof floors are well lighted, commodious and adapted for school purposes. The basement is divided into four rooms for the janitor, stores, assay furnaces, quartz crushers and workshops. The first floor is approached by a broad flight of steps leading to a fine vestibule and hall. On the left hand side are the principal's office, reception room, Regents' room, library and museum; on the right hand side the assayer's office, assaying room, weighing room, lavatory and gymnasium. Ascending to the second floor the visitor will find a large lecture hall on the right and two fine class rooms on the left hand side. The third floor has two large apartments—a general assembly room and an armory.

The first register or catalogue of the University of Nevada was issued a few weeks ago by the State Printer. Since the Legislature passed the Act transferring the University from Elko to Reno, a great deal of work has devolved upon the present Board of Regents. The result of their labor is shown in the register, which gives a history of the University from the date of its foundation in 1873.

The faculty at the present time consists of but two instructors, Prof. A. H. Willis, A. M., who is in charge of the Scientific and Mining Department, and Prof. J. W. McCammon, B. A., who is Principal of the Preparatory Department, and who supervises the academic branches. Both gentlemen are college graduates and have had experience as teachers. Prof. Willis is a graduate of Princeton College, New Jersey, and Prof. McCammon is a graduate of the Ohio Wesleyan University, at Delaware, Ohio.

It is the design to equip the institution in all branches and to build it up in every way. At the entrance last week there were 13 young men and 23 young women enrolled. The institution is open to all Nevada youths who can pass the entrance examination, and tuition is free. We shall take a deep interest in the University of our sister State and rejoice in its good work. As Nevada is largely a mining State, special effort will be made to advance the sciences underlying success in practical mining. The growth of the State in agriculture, however, is very commendable, as has been stated from time to time in our columns, and, no doubt, due effort will be put forth by the University to minister to that progress. The foundation for the special courses will be a thorough course in the higher branches which pertain to general culture. The Regents of the Nevada University are H. G. Shaw, Virginia City, J. H. Rand, Elko, and L. W. Gatchell, Austin, Nevada.

Dr. Oliver was taken seriously ill night before last, but Dr. Bergman informs us that his condition was improved last night.

M. Nathan, the clothier, returned from the Bay yesterday morning, where he has been buying a large stock of goods for the Spring and Summer trade.

The Genoa Courier has entered upon its seventh volume. The Courier is Douglas county's best friend, and the Journal wishes it continued prosperity.

The Board of Examiners counted the money in the Treasury, and report that on April 20th there were $293,388 83 in coin and vouchers, and also $793,000 State School Fund bonds.

In all parts of the county the experience of prominent business men whose business have been pecuniary successes bears strong testimony in favor of persistent and judicious advertising.

Judge Boardman yesterday decided that L. L. Crockett was entitled to his home, and that it was not subject to execution under the judgments in the Thompson-Reno Savings Bank cases.

Mrs. G. W. Mapes is still thought to be in a very critical condition. A consultation of several physicians was had on her case Friday evening. Dr. Bronson of Virginia having been called for that purpose.

Having purchased the interest of Mr. Hall in our grocery business, I would like to extend my thanks to all who have so kindly assisted us with their patronage and will insure fair dealing and first-class articles to all who favor me with their support in the future as in the past. M. T. BARNETT.

THE GRAND ARMY.—Nevada has seven posts with 189 members, and in view of the grand reunion in San Francisco next August, all the old soldiers are joining and are looking anxiously forward to this first, and perhaps last opportunity for the comrades of the Pacific Coast to meet their old "companions in arms." The different posts of the State with the location and roll is as follows: Custer, Carson, 41 members, Phil Kearney, Virginia, 25; Lander, Austin, 19; Upton, Eureka, 28; Gen S. M. Mitchell, Reno, 39; McDermitt, Winnemucca, 14; Donaldson, Taylor, 21.

FAIR IN THE FIELD.—A Washington dispatch to the San Francisco Post says: There has been much speculation as to whether Senator Fair would enter the next Senatorial contest in Nevada as a candidate. His friends say he is in the field to stay, and that he will distance all his competitors with ease.

PASSENGER RATES.—W. D. Phillips, C. P. ticket agent here, has been advised that an advance of $20 had been made on first-class unlimited overland tickets and $10 on third-class with no rebate.

STATE FAIR OF 1886.

Fine Hunting, Trotting and Racing Races—Splendid Cattle Show—Indian Races—Military Tournament—Ladies Tournament—Sheep Shearing Match—Etc.

A meeting of the Executive Committee of the Board of Directors of the State Agricultural Society was held in Reno yesterday afternoon, President Stevenson presiding, and Directors Longley, Powning, White and Leste being present. The premium lists and racing programmes for this year's Fair were made up and ordered sent to the printer. The new catalogue has been specially arranged with a view to accommodate all interests experience has taught should be encouraged. The premiums have been increased, and many new articles provided for. The speed programme gives plenty of sport, and gives home horses a chance on their own account, and at the same time invites the fastest nags on the Coast or in the country to come to Reno this Fall. The running, pacing and trotting purses are liberal, and will attract good stock. Four valuable prizes will be given for the ladies' tournament on Wednesday and Friday. This year there will be two Indian pony races—on Tuesday and Friday, and all the Shasta Jims and Winnemucca Johns in the State are expected to contest. On Thursday a novelty in the shape of a sheep shearing match has been added, and will prove one of the most attractive features of the week. A purse of $150 is offered for a competitive drill between the military companies, and arrangements will hereafter be made for a shooting tournament. The Directors intend to make the Fair this year the best ever held in the State.

THE AGE OF SHAM.—By Mrs. J. R. Williamson, of Austin, Nev., is a neat volume of timely essays on current topics, which not only "shoots folly as it flies," but carries a keen blade into the ranks of Sham. The shams of politics and patriotism, of society and fashion, of religion and science, of education and morals, of friendship and domesticity, etc., are uncovered and attacked in a way that is healthful and attractive, without being bitter or presumptive. Evidently Mrs. Williamson does not write from disappointment; life has been beautiful to her, and having carried her to the higher conditions which are favorable for observation, suggestiveness and amendment, she probes foolishness with the same patience and care—and somewhat professional hope and pleasure—that a physician treats and admires his most "beautiful cases." There is not a sermon nor a dull page in the book, yet it will accomplish more than thousands of sermons and should have a large sale. Paper covers, 122 pages. Price, 25 cents.

GENERAL U. S. GRANT'S MEMOIRS.—The publication of the second volume of General Grant's memoirs has been again postponed. The publishers do not expect to get it out before May 10th. The book has 100 more pages than the first volume contained. There is in every volume a fac-simile of the document setting forth the terms of the surrender of Lee. It was written on manifold paper, and the fac-simile is put on such paper as to represent this material as nearly as possible. They are produced by photographic process. They throw light on one of the pretty stories of General Badeau, who says in his book that as General Grant was writing he looked up and saw a flash of sunlight on the swords of Lee's officers, and then interpolated the words "side arms" in the list of things exempted from surrender. A glance at the fac-simile shows that the sentence reads, "Except horses, side arms and baggage," the word "baggage" being the only word interlined.

MURDER IN THE FIRST DEGREE.—The jury in the case of Dr. J. Milton Bowers, charged with causing the death by phosphorus poisoning of his wife, who died at San Francisco on November 1st of last year, last Friday brought in a verdict of murder in the first degree. The alleged reason of the murder was to obtain $17,000 insurance in various benevolent orders on the life of deceased. The case, which has been in progress for several weeks, has attracted wide attention.

THE LEGITIMATE DRAMA.

Lewis Morrison to Inaugurate a Shakespearean Season at the Opera House.

Mr. Samuel Thall, business manager of the Lewis Morrison Dramatic Combination, arrived yesterday from San Francisco to complete arrangements for its appearance at the theater. The company has recently been organized by Mr. Morrison under the patronage of Miss Oella Alsberg, the California millionaire heiress actress, and is pronounced to be the strongest theatrical combination that has ever taken the road in the United States. It includes the following brilliant array of dramatic talent: Lewis Morrison, W. E. Sheridan, George Wessella, W. H. Thompson, George Staly, Lewis Belmont, Logan Paul, E. Murasky, C. J. Fox, Louise Davenport, Miss Rosabelle Roy, Miss Edith Cary, and Miss Oella Alsberg.

The company will appear next Saturday night in Shakespeare's delightful comedy entitled "Measure for Measure."

EDITOR JOURNAL:—It seems to me to be very bad grace on your part to publish in your paper the insolent ribaldry of your correspondent of Friday morning who signs himself "S." Is he a Spiritualist? If not, I pronounce him a spiritualistic crank! who wants to foist himself on the public as a moralist and a reformer. The people of Reno know better than to be swayed either way by the ravings of such a "freak of Nature." Knowing, however, your spirit of "fair play," you will please tell this precious compound from me that I, in company with millions of others, would prefer to go to Mass and confession "on a Sunday morning" and take a "glass of lager," if needs be, play a game of base ball, or join in any other manly or athletic exercises, rather than belong to such an ignorant puritanical whiner as he. To do so won't at least take away character and stamina from a man. I would not for all Reno exhibit myself such an immoral conundrum as your correspondent of Friday morning has shown himself to be, in wantonly insulting some of our best citizens, and then like a crouching cur immediately sue for pardon.
